However, the party becomes strange and hilarious when Tom brings a disgusting "special sandwich" made of bananas, pickles, onions, and sardines. Later, the silly entertainer Clown Cookie arrives carrying mysterious boxes filled with random objects like carrots, socks, and rubber chickens. During party games, accidents and misunderstandings create more laughter and confusion. Finally, Clown Cookie accidentally drops his hat into the birthday cake, making the party even funnier. Despite all the disasters, Emma realizes that friendship, laughter, and fun are what make a birthday truly special.
